Simon Commission

Factors leading to the CDM

Simon Commission (1927)

- Appointed in November 1927 by the British government
- Chairman- Sir John Simon- 7 British MPs and no Indian member.
- Objective : To investigate the need for further constitutional reforms.

MPs → Member of Parliament

- Congress decided to boycott the Simon commission ge and Muslim league and Hindu Mahasabha also supported the congress decision.
- On 3rd February 1928, Simon commission reached Bombay.
- All India Hartal was organised, black flag shown to the commission and slogan raised 'Simon go back'.
- Government brutally suppressed the protest-on 30th October, 1928 while protesting at Lahore railway station, Lal Lajpat Rai was seriously injured in police Lathi charge and died after some time(17 November 1928)

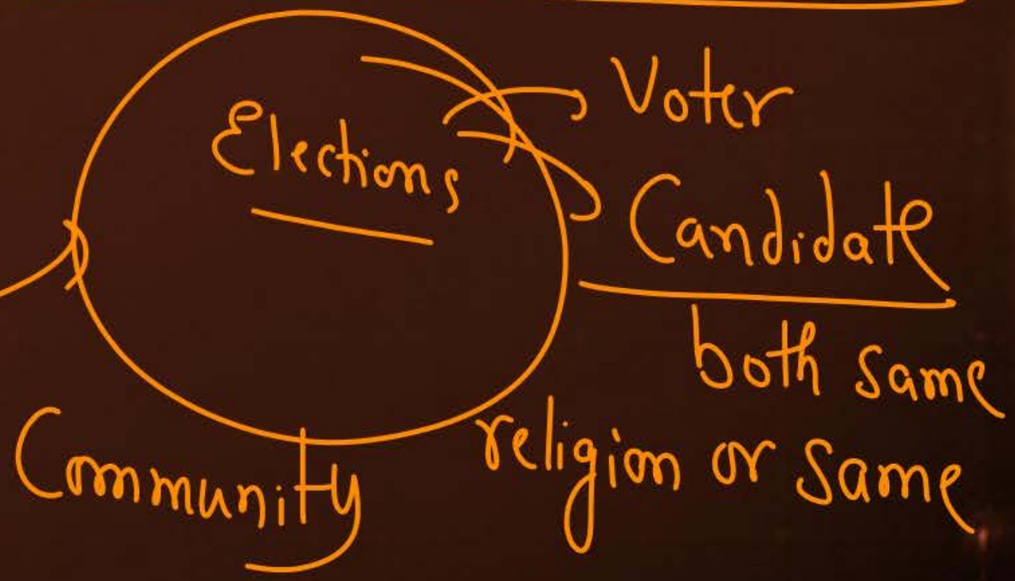

Recommendations of Simon Commission

- Abolition of Dyarchy- complete autonomy to the provinces including law and order but over-riding powers to the Governor in certain matters like internal security.
- Extension of provincial legislative Councils.
- British government at the centre should also include princely states.

- Power should be given to Governor-General to select the members of his Cabinet.
- More duration of stay for British troops and British officers in Indian regiments.
- High courts should be under the administrative control of the government of India.
- Communal representation to be continued.

↳ Separate electorates

Nehru Report

1. Lord Birkenhead, the Secretary of State for India, justified the exclusion of Indians in the Simon Commission saying that the Indians are not united and hence cannot arrive to an agreed scheme of reforms.

2. All Parties Conference was organised in 1928 to suggest reforms for the country.

3. 'The Liberal and Assertive Nationalists, leaders of the Muslim League, Hindu Mahasabha and Depressed Classes came together and made Motilal Nehru the Chairman of the Committee.

4. The report submitted by the All Parties Conference -known as the 'Nehru Report'. The report demanded Dominion Status for India and solutions for communal problems

Ques : Simon Commission was boycotted as it had _____

A. No congress member

B. Muslim League joined it

C. Both a and b

D. No Indian member

Lahore Session 1929

Declaration of Poorna Swaraj

- The Congress in the Kolkata Session asked the government to either accept the Nehru Report or be prepared to face the mass agitations.
- When the government did not accept the Report, the Congress declared 'Poorna Swaraj' or complete independence from British rule as its main objective.
- This resolution was passed at the Lahore Session of 1929.
- Jawaharlal Nehru, the President of the Congress Session in 1929, led a procession at Lahore and hoisted the tricolour.

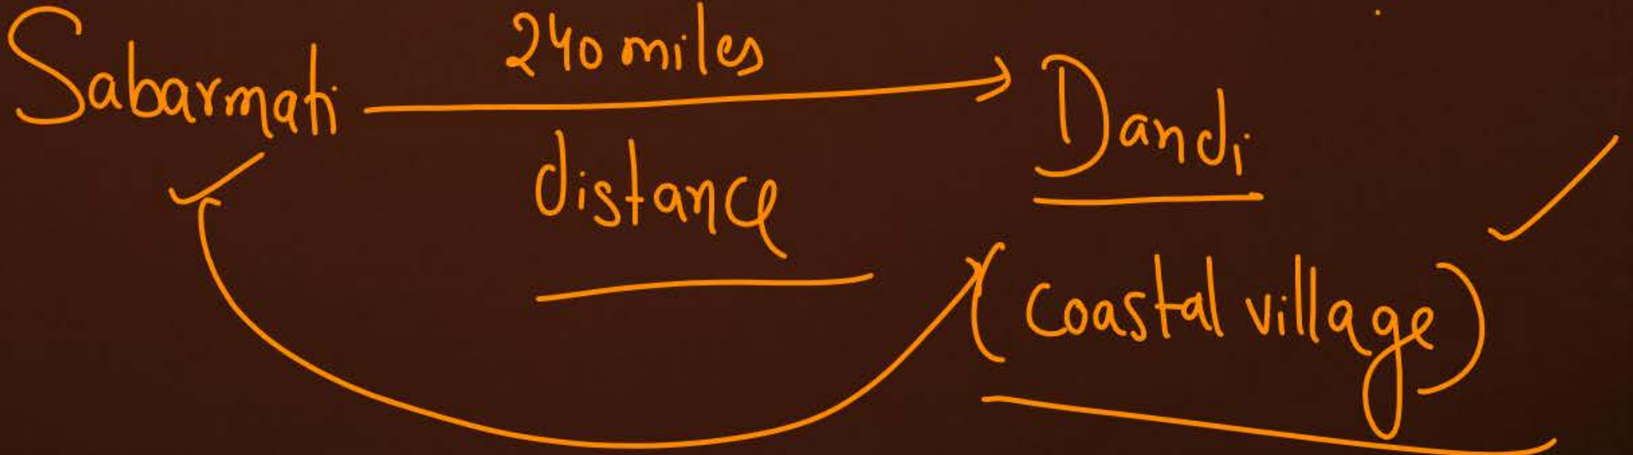

Declaration of Poorna Swaraj

- The following programmes were adopted by the Congress Working Committee:
- To prepare for the Civil Disobedience Movement
- Poorna Swaraj or complete independence was declared as the main aim of the Indian National Movement
- To observe 26 January as Poorna Swaraj Day or the Day of Independence every year
- All the members of the legislatures had to resign

Civil Disobedience Movement
Disobey → To break rule
To not follow anything

Civil Disobedience Movement (1930–34)

- In the Congress working committee meeting in February 1930 at Sabarmati Ashram, Gandhiji was made authorised to launch CDM.
- Before launching CDM, Gandhi served an 11 point ultimatum, when not getting response from the British government, started the movement from his famous Dandi March from Sabarmati Ashram to Dandi on the Gujarat coast.

Dandi March

- Started on 12th March - Many people followed him.
- On 6th April, violated salt law at Dandi by picking up some salt left by sea waves (monopoly of the government to manufacture and self salt) salt-tax affected all sections of society, especially the poor.
- Breaking of salt laws- beginning of CDM.

Salt March or Dandi March

Que

____led to the beginning of CDM

(a) Non Cooperation

(b) Manufacturing of Salt at Dandi

(c) Breaking forest laws

(d) Abolishing Zamindari

Programmes of CDM

What was done in CDM? (Reactions)

- Breaking of Salt Laws.
- Boycott of foreign liquor, cloth and all kinds of British goods.
- Non-Payment of taxes and land revenue.
- CDM was broader than NCM as it also includes non-payment of taxes and land revenue with all features of NCM.

Progress of the movement

- Spread rapidly all over the country- salt laws violation followed by violation of forest laws in Karnataka, Maharashtra and the Central Province- also refusal to pay the rural chowkidari tax in Eastern India.
- Hartals, demonstrations and boycott campaigns all over the country.

→ Work → Stop

- Movement reached to the extreme north-western corner of India, where Pathans organised the society of 'Khudai Khidmatgar' (Servants of God)- known popularly as Red Shirts under the leadership of Khan Abdul Ghaffar Khan (Frontier Gandhi).
- In Nagaland, Rani Caidilieu (aged 13 years) responded Gandhiji's call and revolted against British rule.

Repression by the British government

- Government used brutal measures such as firing, lathi charge and imprisonment on large scale- over 90,000 satyagrahis including Gandhiji were imprisoned. (men, women, children) ↳ 1 lakh.
- Declared congress illegal- severe restrictions imposed on nationalist press

- Ghaffar Khan was arrested followed by demonstration at Peshawar- Garhwal platoon refused to fire on demonstrators- its commands Thakur Chandra Singh and others were severely punished for it.
- Textile and railway workers of Mumbai went on strike- incidents of firing at Delhi and Kolkata
