ACT 3 SCENE 1

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

WHO IS METELLUS CIMBER?

Metellus Cimber is one of the conspirators against Caesar. He suggests Ligarius as another possible member of their cause.

He is charged with begging Caesar for his brother's repeal, thereby giving the conspirators the opportunity to surround Caesar before killing him.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

|---|---|
| MetellusIs there no voice more worthy than my own To sound more sweetly in great Caesar's ear For the repealing of my banished brother? | MetellusIs there no voice worthier than my own to sweetly ask the great Caesar to cancel/retract the banishment of my brother? |
| BRUTUS[kneeling] I kiss thy hand, but not in flattery, Caesar, Desiring thee that Publius Cimber may Have an immediate freedom of repeal. | Brutus[Kneeling] Caesar, I kiss your hand, but not in flattery, as I also want you to retract Publius Cimber's banishment immediately. |

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

| | |
|---|---|
| CaesarWhat, Brutus? | CaesarWhat, Brutus? |
| Cassius[kneeling] Pardon, Caesar. Caesar, pardon.As low as to thy foot doth Cassius fall To begenfranchisement for Publius Cimber. | Cassius[Kneeling] Caesar, pardon Publius. Caesar, pardon him. I throw myself down at your feet to beg that Publius Cimber regain his citizenship. |
| CaesarI could be well moved if I were as you. | CaesarI could be influenced if I were like you. |

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

| If I could pray to move, prayers would move me. But I am constant as the northern star, Of whose true-fixed and resting quality There is no fellow in the firmament. | If I could beg others to change their minds, begging would convince me, too. But I'm as steady as the northern star, whose stable and immobile quality has no equal in the sky. |
| The skies are painted with unnumbered sparks. They are all fire and every one doth shine, But there's but one in all doth hold his place. So in the world. | The skies are filled with countless stars. They are all made of fire, and every single one shines. But there's just one out of all of them that holds its central place. The world is the same way. |

| | |
|---|---|
| Tis furnished well with men, And men are flesh and blood, and apprehensive, | It's full of men—and men are flesh and blood, and capable of understanding. |
| Yet in the number I do know but one That unassailable holds on his rank, Unshaked of motion | Yet of them all, I know just one who is beyond questioning and immovable, who never shifts from his position. |
| And that I am he Let me a little show it even in this: That I was constant Cimber should be banished, And constant do remain to keep him so. | I am that man, and I will show you in this way: I was resolved that Cimber should be banished, and I am resolved that he should remain banished. |

| Cinna[kneeling] O Caesar— | Cinna[Kneeling] Oh, Caesar— |
| CaesarHence! Wilt thou lift up Olympus? | CaesarEnough! Would you try to lift up Mount Olympus? |
| Decius[kneeling] Great Caesar— | Decius[Kneeling] Great Caesar— |
| CaesarDoth not Brutus bootless kneel? | CaesarWhy are you kneeling, when even Brutus' kneeling is in vain? |

| TreboniusFled to his house amazed. Men, wives, and children stare, cry out, and run As it were doomsday. | TreboniusHe ran to his house, stunned. Men, wives, and children stare, cry out, and run around as if it were the end of the world. |
| BrutusFates, we will know your pleasures. That we shall die, we know. | BrutusWe'll soon discover what the Fates want to happen to us. We already know that we'll all die one day |
| 'Tis but the time, And drawing days out, that men stand upon. | It's just a matter of when. Men try to control that by prolonging the time they have left to live as long as possible. |

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

| | |
|---|---|
| CassiusWhy, he that cuts off twenty years of lifeCuts off so many years of fearing death. | CassiusWhy, he who shortens his own life by twenty years also cuts off twenty years of worrying about death. |
| BrutusGrant that, and then is death a benefit.So are we Caesar's friends, that have abridgedHis time of fearing death. Stoop, Romans, stoop, | BrutusIf you look at it that way, then death becomes a gift. This makes us Caesar's friends, since we've shortened the time he would have spent fearing death. Kneel, Romans, kneel. |

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

| | |
|---|---|
| And let us bathe our hands in Caesar's bloodUp to the elbows, and besmear our swords.Then walk we forth, even to the marketplace, | And let's wash our hands up to the elbows inCaesar's blood, and stain our swords with it.Then we'll walk outside, even to the publicmarketplace. |
| And waving our red weapons o'er our headsLet's all cry, "Peace, freedom, and liberty!" | And, waving our bloody swords over ourheads, we'll cry, "Peace, freedom, and liberty!" |
| CassiusStoop, then, and wash. | CassiusKneel, then, and wash. |

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

| | |
|---|---|
| CassiusHow many ages hence Shall this our lofty scene be acted over In states unborn and accents yet unknown! | CassiusHow many years from now will this epic scene be reenacted in countries that don't yet exist, and in languages not yet known?! |
| BrutusHow many times shall Caesar bleed in sport, That now on Pompey's basis lies alongNo worthier than the dust! | BrutusHow many times will Caesar bleed in plays about this moment, just as he now lies beneath Pompey's statue as worthless as dust?! |

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

| | |
|---|---|
| CassiusSo oft as that shall be, So often shall the knot of us be called "The men that gave their country liberty." | CassiusAnd every time that the play is shown, the group of us will be acclaimed as "the men who gave their country liberty." |
| DeciusWhat, shall we forth? | DeciusWell, should we go out? |
| CassiusAy, every man away. Brutus shall lead, and we will grace his heels With the most-boldest and best hearts of Rome. | CassiusYes, every man should go. Brutus will lead the way, and we'll follow him with the boldest and best hearts of Rome. |
