VICTORY 2027

Novel- Julius Caesar : Act 3 Scene 2

Act 3 Scene 1 (Remaining Portion)

(Part-1)

ENGLISH

Lec-03

Nupur Ma'am

TOPICS TO BE COVERED

1. Overview
2. Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 2
3. Extract Based Questions
4. MCQ

had

Had I many eyes as thou hast wounds,

Weeping as fast as they stream forth thy blood,

It would become me better than to close

In terms of friendship with thine enemies.

eyes = Wounds

Antithesis

Simile Comparison

as

Topic: MCQ

What does Caesar say he is as constant as just before he is stabbed in the Senate House?

A) The North Star

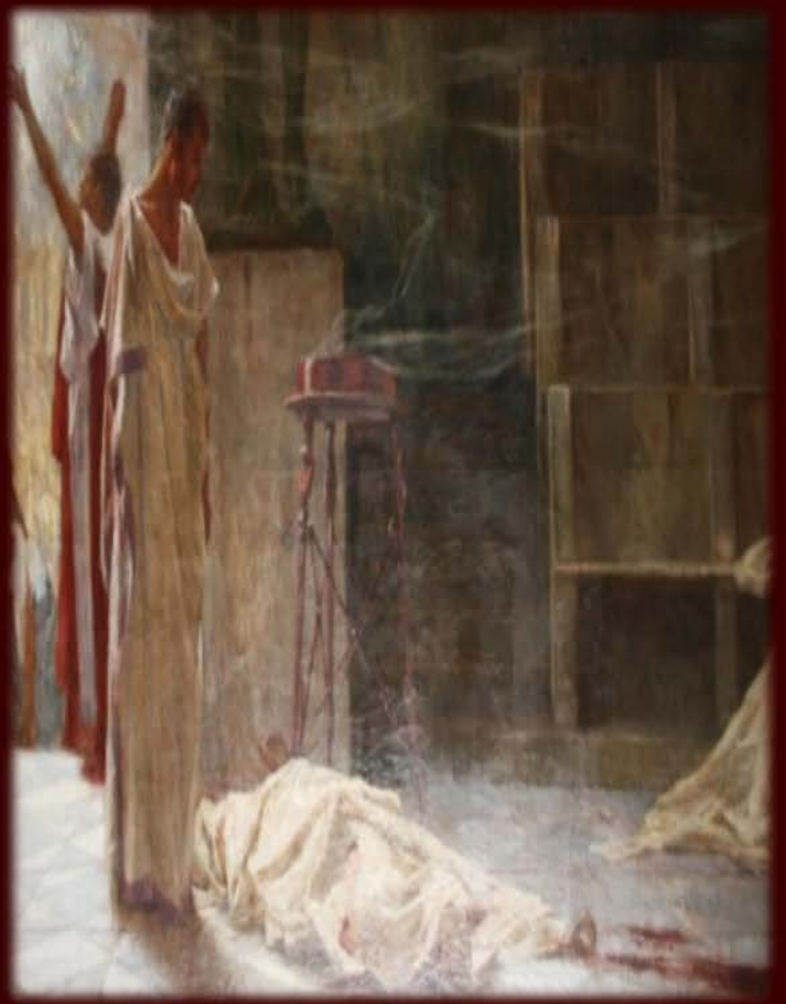

B) The rivers flowing to the ocean

C) The Gods

D) A faithful wife

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

Brutus But here comes Antony.— Welcome, Mark Antony.	Brutus But here comes Antony
Antony [To CAESAR's body] O mighty Caesar! Dost thou lie so low? Are all thy conquests, glories, triumphs, spoils, Shrunk to this little measure? Fare thee well.	Antony [To CAESAR's body] Oh, mighty Caesar! Do you lie so low? Are all of your conquests, glories, triumphs, and successes now shrunk to such little value? Farewell.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

[To the conspirators] —I know not, gentlemen, what you intend, Who else must be let blood, who else is rank. If I myself, there is no hour so fit As Caesar's death's hour,	[To the conspirators] Gentlemen, I don't know what you plan to do; who else you must kill; who else you think is corrupt. If it's me, there's no time as fitting as this hour of Caesar's death, nor no instrument Of half that worth as those your swords, made rich With the most noble blood of all this world.	and no weapons even half as worthy as your swords— which have been made rich by being covered in the noblest blood in the whole world.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

I do beseech ye, if you bear me hard, Now, whilst your purpled hands do reek and smoke, Fulfill your pleasure. Live a thousand years, I shall not find myself so apt to die.	I beg you, if you have a grudge against me, do what you want to do right now while your stained hands still smell of blood. Even if were I to live a thousand years, I would never find another moment when I would be as ready to die as I am now.
No place will please me so, no mean of death, As here by Caesar, and by you cut off, The choice and master spirits of this age.	There's no place I'd rather die than next to Caesar, and no manner of death I'd prefer than being stabbed by you, the leaders of this new era.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

Brutus	Brutus
O Antony, beg not your death of us. Though now we must appear bloody and cruel— As by our hands and this our present act you see we do	Oh, Antony, don't beg us to kill you. Though we must seem to be bloody and cruel right now to you—with our bloody hands and what we've just done
—yet see you but our hands And this the bleeding business they have done. Our hearts you see not. They are pitiful.	—you're only seeing our hands and the bloody work they've done. You have not seen into our hearts. They are full of pity for Caesar.

only

Irony

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

And pity to the general wrong of Rome— As fire drives out fire, so pity pity—Hath done this deed on Caesar.	But, just as fire drives out fire, our pity for the wrongs committed against Rome overcame our pity for Caesar and made us do what we did to Caesar.
For your part, To you our swords have leaden points, Mark Antony. Our arms in strength of malice and our hearts Of brothers' temper do receive you in With all kind love, good thoughts, and reverence.	As for you, our swords have soft points that will not harm you, Mark Antony. Our arms—with the same strength they had in striking Caesar—and our hearts—filled with brotherly love—embrace you with kind love, good thoughts, and admiration.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

Cassius Your voice shall be as strong as any man's In the disposing of new dignities.	Cassius Your influence will be as strong as anyone's in the selection of new government officials.
Brutus Only be patient till we have appeased The multitude, beside themselves with fear,	Brutus Just be patient until we've calmed the masses, who are beside themselves with fear.
And then we will deliver you the cause, Why I, that did love Caesar when I struck him, Have thus proceeded.	And then we'll explain to you why I—who loved Caesar even while I stabbed him—have done this.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

ANTONY	Antony
I doubt not of your wisdom. Let each man render me his bloody hand. [shakes hands with the conspirators]	I don't doubt your wisdom. May each of you give me his bloody hand. [He shakes hands with the conspirators]
First, Marcus Brutus, will I shake with you.	[To BRUTUS] First, Marcus Brutus, I will shake your hand.
—Now, Decius Brutus, yours.	[To DECIUS] Now, Decius Brutus, yours.
- Now yours, Metellus.	[To METELLUS] Now yours, Metellus.
—Yours, Cinna.	[To CINNA] Yours, Cinna.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

[To CASCA] —And, my valiant Casca, yours.	[To CASCA] And, my brave Casca, yours.
[To TREBONIUS] —Though last, not last in love, yours, good Trebonius.	[To TREBONIUS] Though I shake your hand last, I do not love you the least, good Trebonius.
[To the conspirators] —Gentlemen all, alas, what shall I say? My credit now stands on such slippery ground hat one of two bad ways you must conceit me, Either a coward or a flatterer	[To the conspirators] All of you gentlemen, alas, what can I say? Now that we've shaken hands, my credibility stands on such slippery ground that you must think me either a coward or a flatterer.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

[To CAESAR's body] —That I did love thee, Caesar, O, 'tis true. If then thy spirit look upon us now, Shall it not grieve thee dearer than thy death To see thy Antony making his peace,	[To CAESAR's body] It is true that I loved you, Caesar. If your spirit is looking down upon us now, would it grieve you more than even your death to see your Antony making peace,
Shaking the bloody fingers of thy foes— Most noble!—in the presence of thy corpse?	and shaking the bloody hands of your enemies— most noble enemies!—in the presence of your dead body?

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

hart ⇒ deer
heart ⇒
PUN (play of words)

Pardon me, Julius! Here west thou bayed, brave hart; Here didst thou fall; and here thy hunters stand, Signed in thy spoil, and crimsoned in thy lethe.	Forgive me, Julius! Here is where you were brought down, like a brave deer surrounded by hunting dogs. Here is where you fell, and here your hunters still stand, stained and reddened by your blood.
O world, thou wast the forest to this hart, And this indeed, O world, the heart of thee. How like a deer, strucken by many princes, Dost thou here lie!	Oh, world, you were the forest to this deer. And this deer, oh world, was your dear. Now you lie here, so much like a deer, stabbed by many princes!

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

Cassius = pragmatic (practical)

Cassius Mark Antony—	Cassius Mark Antony—
Antony Pardon me, Caius Cassius. The enemies of Caesar shall say this; Then, in a friend, it is cold modesty.	Antony Pardon me, Caius Cassius. Even the enemies of Caesar would say the same. So, when said by a friend, it's just a plain unemotional truth.
Cassius I blame you not for praising Caesar so. But what compact mean you to have with us?	Cassius I don't blame you for praising Caesar as you do. But what agreement do you plan to make with us?

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

Will you be pricked in number of our friends? Or shall we on, and not depend on you?	Will you be marked down as one of our friends, or should we move on without depending on you?
Antony Therefore, I took your hands, but was indeed Swayed from the point by looking down on Caesar.	Antony Because I wanted to be your friend, I shook your hands. But, indeed, I was distracted when I looked down at Caesar.
Friends am I with you all and love you all Upon this hope: that you shall give me reasons Why and wherein Caesar was dangerous.	I am friends with you all and love you all, on one condition—that you will give me the reasons how and why Caesar was dangerous.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

Brutus Or else were this a savage spectacle!	Brutus If we couldn't, killing him would have been just some savage act!
Our reasons are so full of good regard That were you, Antony, the son of Caesar, You should be satisfied.	Antony, our reasons are so well thought-out that even if you were Caesar's son, you would be satisfied by them.
Antony That's all I seek. And am moreover suitor that I may Produce his body to the marketplace,	Antony That's all I ask—and would also ask the favor that I be allowed to bring his body to the marketplace

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

platform

And in the pulpit, as becomes a friend, Speak in the order of his funeral.	and stand on the platform and speak during his funeral ceremony, as a friend ought to do.
Brutus You shall, Mark Antony.	Brutus You may, Mark Antony.
Cassius Brutus, a word with you .	Cassius Brutus, may I speak with you?

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

[aside to BRUTUS] You know not what you do. Do not consent That Antony speak in his funeral.	[To BRUTUS so that only he can hear] You don't know what you're doing. Don't agree to let Antony speak at his funeral.
Know you how much the people may be moved By that which he will utter?	Do you know how much the people could be stirred up by what he says?
Brutus [aside to CASSIUS] By your pardon. I will myself into the pulpit first, And show the reason of our Caesar's death.	Brutus [To CASSIUS so that only he can hear] If you'll agree, I myself will stand on the platform first and explain the reason for Caesar's death

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

What Antony shall speak, I will protest, He speaks by leave and by permission, And that we are contented Caesar shall Have all true rites and lawful ceremonies.	I will announce that Antony speaks with our permission, and I will say that we believe Caesar should be honored with all the usual and lawful ceremonies.
It shall advantage more than do us wrong.	It will help us more than it will do us harm.
Cassius [aside to BRUTUS] I know not what may fall. I like it not.	Cassius [To BRUTUS so that only he can hear] Anything could happen. I don't like this.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

* Conditions put forward by Brutus in front of Antony to speak on Caesar's funeral

Brutus	Brutus
Mark Antony, here, take you Caesar's body. You shall not in your funeral speech blame us, But speak all good you can devise of Caesar, And say you do 't by our permission.	Mark Antony, here, take Caesar's body. You will not blame us in your funeral speech but will say all the good you can think of about Caesar. And you will also say that you do all this with our permission.
Else shall you not have any hand at all About his funeral. And you shall speak In the same pulpit whereto I am going, After my speech is ended.	Otherwise, you won't take any part in his funeral. And you'll speak on the same platform that I do, after I've finished my own speech.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

Antony Be it so. I do desire no more.	Antony So be it. I want nothing more than that.
Brutus Prepare the body then, and follow us.	Brutus Prepare the body, then, and follow us.
Antony (to Caesar's body alone) O, pardon me, thou bleeding piece of earth, That I am meek and gentle with these butchers! Thou art the ruins of the noblest man That ever livèd in the tide of times.	Antony Oh, pardon me, you bleeding corpse, for being quiet and friendly with these butchers! You are the remains of the noblest man that ever lived.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

Woe to the hand that shed this costly blood! Over thy wounds now do I prophesy— Which, like dumb mouths, do ope their ruby lips To beg the voice and utterance of my tongue—	May disaster strike the hand that shed this priceless blood. Over your wounds—which, like speechless mouths, open their red lips as if to beg me to speak
A curse shall light upon the limbs of men. Domestic fury and fierce civil strife Shall cumber all the parts of Italy.	—I predict that a curse will come down on us. Anger between brothers and fierce civil war will burden all of Italy.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

Blood and destruction shall be so in use, And dreadful objects so familiar, That mothers shall but smile when they behold Their infants quartered with the hands of war,	Blood and destruction will be so common and dreadful events so familiar, that mothers will just smile when they watch their babies cut to pieces by the hands of war.
All pity choked with custom of fell deeds, And Caesar's spirit, ranging for revenge, With Atë by his side come hot from hell,	The sheer volume of evil deeds will choke people's compassion. And Caesar's ghost—searching for revenge with Atë by his side

Common

Hyperbole (exaggeration)

Allusion

Goddess of revenge and folly

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

Shall in these confines with a monarch's voice Cry "Havoc!" and let slip the dogs of war, That this foul deed shall smell above the earth With carrion men, groaning for burial.	—will rush up from hell and cry in the voice of a king, "Havoc!" His ghost will unleash the dogs of war, so that this foul murder will cover the earth with men's corpses, begging to be buried.
Antony You serve Octavius Caesar, do you not?	Antony You serve Octavius Caesar, right?
Octavius' Servant I do, Mark Antony.	Octavius' Servant I do, Mark Antony.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

Octavius => (nephew and adopted son of Caesar)

Antony Caesar did write for him to come to Rome.	Antony Caesar wrote to him that he should come to Rome
Octavius' Servant He did receive his letters and is coming. And bid me say to you by word of mouth— [sees CAESAR's body] O Caesar!—	Octavius' Servant He received Caesar's letters and is coming. He told me to say to you personally—[Seeing CAESAR's body] Oh, Caesar!—

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

Antony Thy heart is big. Get thee apart and weep.	Antony Your heart swells with sadness. Go find some privacy and weep.
Passion, I see, is catching, for mine eyes, Seeing those beads of sorrow stand in thine, Began to water. Is thy master coming?	I see that grief is contagious. Seeing the tears of sorrow in your eyes makes my eyes begin to water. Is your master coming?
Octavius' Servant He lies tonight within seven leagues of Rome.	Octavius' Servant He is resting tonight within twenty miles of Rome.

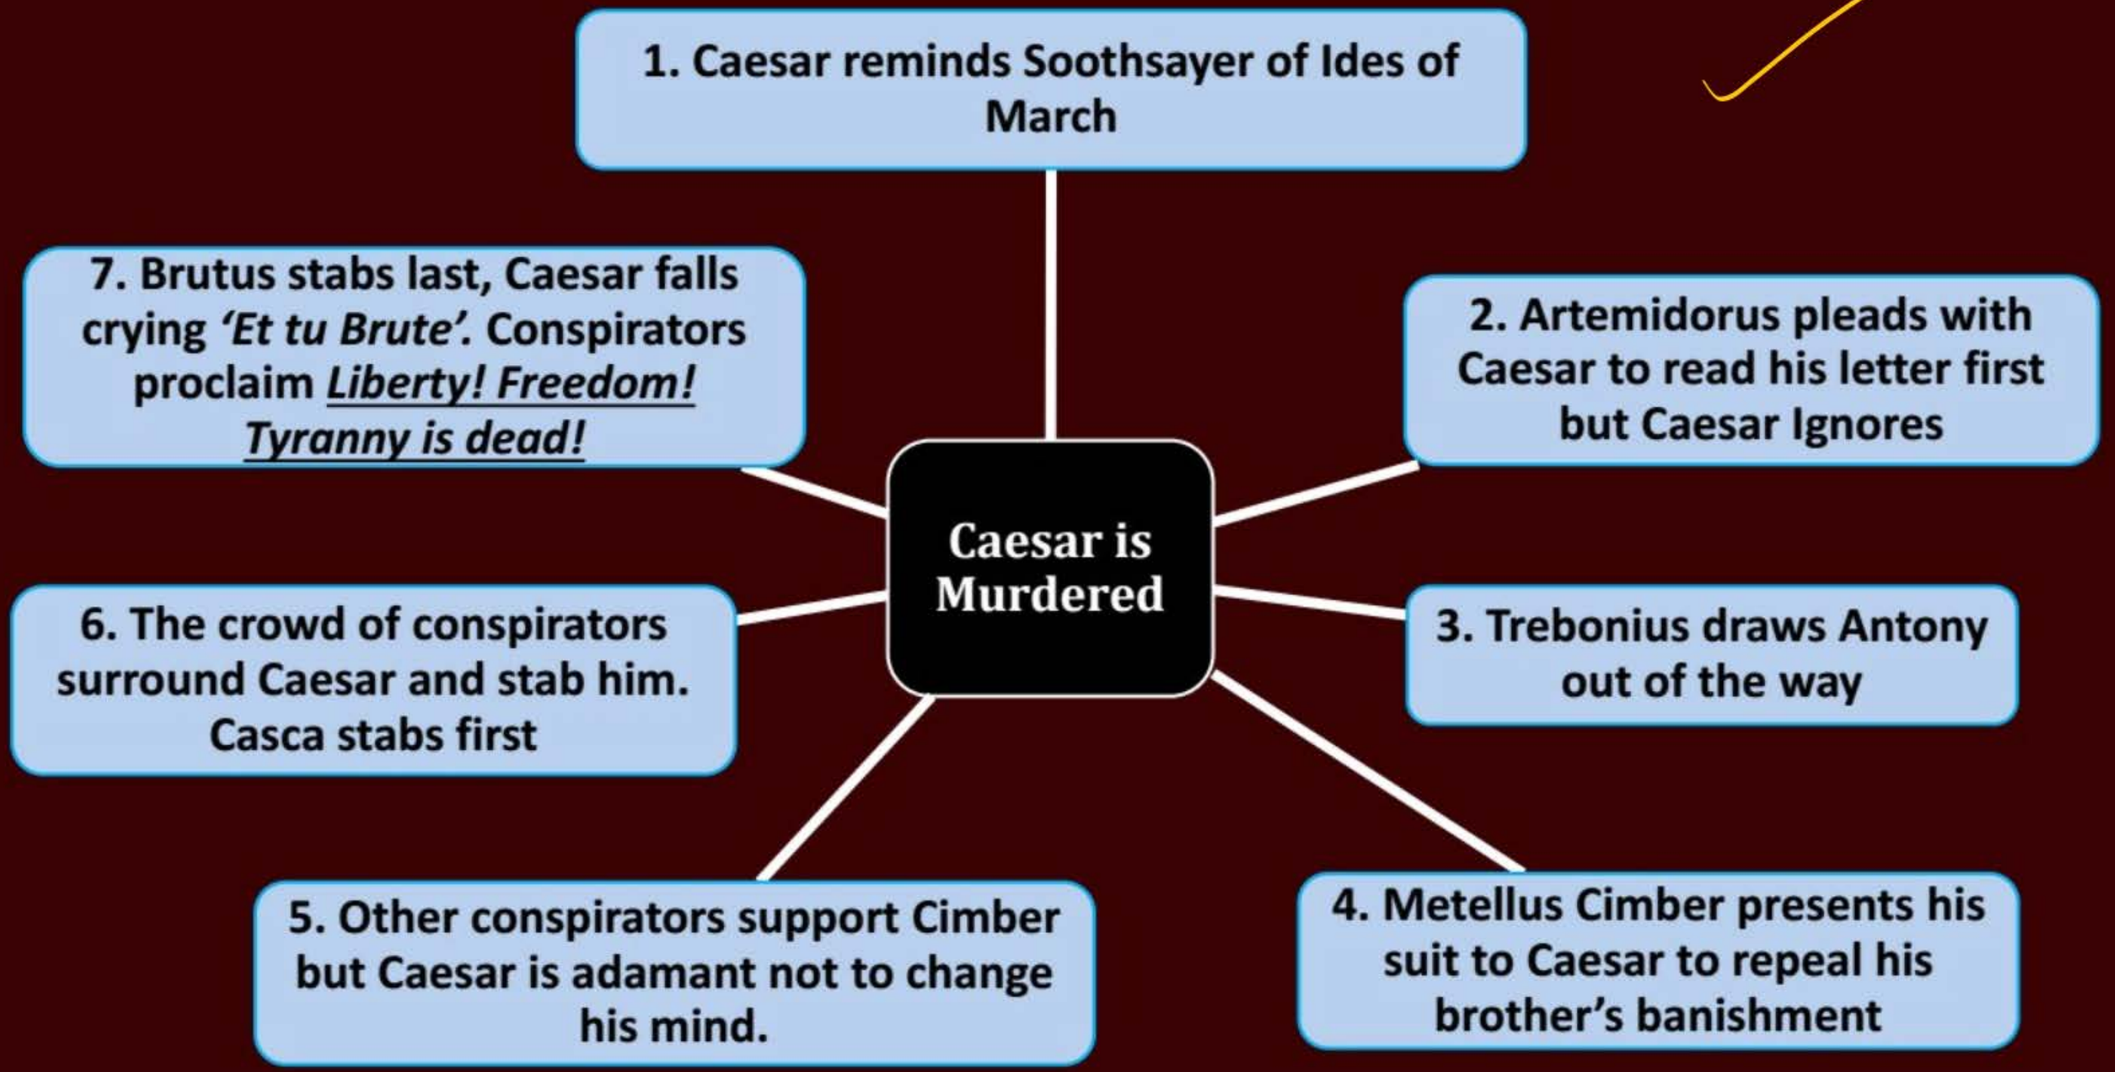

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

Antony	Antony
Post back with speed and tell him what hath chanced. Here is a mourning Rome, a dangerous Rome, No Rome of safety for Octavius yet.	Ride quickly back to him and tell him what has happened. This is now a Rome in mourning, a dangerous Rome. A Rome that is not safe for Octavius yet.
Hie hence, and tell him so.—Yet, stay awhile. Thou shalt not back till I have borne this corpse Into the marketplace.	Get going and tell him so. No, actually, stay a while. You shouldn't go back until I've carried the corpse into the marketplace.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 1

There shall I try, In my oration, how the people take The cruèl issue of these bloody men	There I'll figure out, through my speech, what the people think of the cruel deeds of these bloody men.
According to the which, thou shalt discourse To young Octavius of the state of things. Lend me your hand.	Based on how the people respond, you'll report back to young Octavius about the state of things. Help me with the body.

Act 3 Scene 1

1. Caesar reminds Soothsayer of Ides of March
2. Artemidorus pleads with Caesar to read his letter first but Caesar Ignores
3. Trebonius draws Antony out of the way
4. Metellus Cimber presents his suit to Caesar to repeal his brother's banishment
5. Other conspirators support Cimber but Caesar is adamant not to change his mind.
6. The crowd of conspirators surround Caesar and stab him. Casca stabs first
7. Brutus stabs last, Caesar falls crying 'Et tu Brute'. Conspirators proclaim Liberty! Freedom! Tyranny is dead!
Caesar is Murdered

Act 3 Scene 1 (Post Caesar's Death)

After Caesar's Murder

1. Antony's servant enters to seek assurance of Antony's safety, Antony wants to meet the conspirators and hear the reason for killing Caesar
2. Cassius is suspicious of Antony's intentions but Brutus assures Antony's safety
3. Antony arrives, makes a great show over Caesar's body wailing and pleads to kill him with the same weapons which killed Caesar
4. Antony pretends to be friends and shakes the bloody hands of the conspirators
5. Antony requests to be allowed to take Caesar's body to the market place and to speak at its funeral, Brutus allows but Cassius has his speculations
6. Brutus permits on the condition that he speaks first, tell the crowd he speaks with their permission and don't blame them
7. After conspirators leave, a servant enters with the information that Octavius has arrived but Antony tells him to hold Octavius as Rome is not safe for him

Topic: MCQ

How Does The Crowd Initially React To Brutus's Justification For Caesar's Assassination?

A) They Cheer And Applaud

B) They Remain Silent

C) They Express Anger And Outrage

D) They Request Antony's Speech

Topic: MCQ

What do the conspirators shout when Caesar is dead?

A) "Liberty! Freedom! Tyranny is dead!"

B) "His service in death is great indeed!"

C) "It is done, and we are free."

D) "Thus will it be to all tyrants!"

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 2

BRUTUS and CASSIUS enter with a crowd of PLEBEIANS. Citizens	BRUTUS and CASSIUS enter with a crowd of PLEBEIANS.
PLEBEIANS We will be satisfied! Let us be satisfied!	PLEBEIANS We demand answers! Give us answers!
BRUTUS Then follow me and give me audience, friends.	BRUTUS Then follow me and listen to what I say, friends.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 2

[To CASSIUS] —Cassius, go you into the other street. And part the numbers.	[To CASSIUS] Cassius, go on to the next street. Split up the crowd.
[To PLEBEIANS] —Those that will hear me speak, let 'em stay here. Those that will follow Cassius, go with him, And public reasons shall be rendered Of Caesar's death.	[To PLEBEIANS] Let those who want to hear me speak stay here. Those who want to hear from Cassius, go with him. We'll explain the reasons behind Caesar's death publicly.
FIRST PLEBEIAN I will hear Brutus speak.	FIRST PLEBEIAN I'll listen to Brutus.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 2

ANOTHER PLEBEIAN I will hear Cassius and compare their reasons When severally we hear them renderèd.	ANOTHER PLEBEIAN I'll listen to Cassius, and later we'll compare the reasons they have provided.
CASSIUS exits with some of the PLEBEIANS. BRUTUS gets up on the platform.	CASSIUS exits with some of the PLEBEIANS. BRUTUS gets up on the platform.
THIRD PLEBEIAN The noble Brutus is ascended. Silence!	THIRD PLEBEIAN Noble Brutus has stepped up to the platform. Quiet!

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 2

BRUTUS Be patient till the last. Romans, countrymen, and lovers! Hear me for my cause, and be silent that you may hear. Believe me for mine honor, and have respect to mine honor that you may believe.	BRUTUS Please be calm until I finish. Romans, countrymen, and friends! Listen to the reasons for my actions, and maintain silence so that you can hear me. Believe me for the sake of my honour and know that, upon my honor, you can believe me.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 2

Censure me in your wisdom, and awake your senses that you may the better judge. If there be any in this assembly, any dear friend of Caesar's, to him I say that Brutus' love to Caesar was no less than his.	Judge me accurately and awake your senses so that you can so that you can be wise in your judgement. If there's anyone in this assembly, any dear friend of Caesar's, I say to him that my love for Caesar was no less than his.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 2

Caesar - alive - slaves
" - death - freemen (citizens)

If then that friend demand why Brutus rose against Caesar, this is my answer: not that I loved Caesar less, but that I loved Rome more. Had you rather Caesar were living and die all slaves, than that Caesar were dead, to live all free men?

If then that friend demand why Brutus rose against Caesar, this is my answer: not that I loved Caesar less, but that I loved Rome more. Had you rather Caesar were living and die all slaves, than that Caesar were dead, to live all free men?

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 2

As Caesar loved me, I weep for him. As he was fortunate, I rejoice at it. As he was valiant, I honor him. But, as he was ambitious, I slew him.	Because Caesar was my friend, I cry for him. Because he had so much good fortune, I am so happy for him. Because he was brave, I honor him. But because he was ambitious, I killed him.
There is tears for his love, joy for his fortune, honor for his valor, and death for his ambition. Who is here so base that would be a bondman? If any, speak—for him have I offended.	There are tears for his love, joy for his fortune, honor for his bravery, and death for his ambition. Who standing here is a person lacking depth, sophistication, or nobility that he wants to be a slave? If there are any, let them speak—because they are the ones that I have offended.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 2

Who is here so rude that would not be a Roman? If any, speak—for him have I offended. Who is here so vile that will not love his country? If any, speak—for him have I offended. I pause for a reply.	Who here is so uncivilized that he does not want to be a Roman? If there are any, let them speak—because they are the ones that I have offended. Who here is so despicable that he does not love his country? If there are any, let them speak—because they are the ones that I have offended. I will wait for a reply
ALL None, Brutus, none.	ALL No one, Brutus, no one.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 2

BRUTUS Then none have I offended. I have done no more to Caesar than you shall do to Brutus. The question of his death is enrolled in the Capitol.	BRUTUS Then I have offended no one. I've done no more to Caesar than you would do to me. The reasons for his death are on record in the Capitol.
His glory not extenuated wherein he was worthy, nor his offenses enforced for which he suffered death.	His glory has not been reduced where he earned it, nor have the offenses for which he was killed been exaggerated.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 2

Dictatorship/Monarchy → Subjects
Democracy → Citizens

BRUTUS Here comes his body, mourned by Mark Antony, who, though he had no hand in his death, shall receive the benefit of his dying—a place in the commonwealth—as which of you shall not?	BRUTUS Here comes his body, mourned by Mark Antony, who, though he had no part in killing Caesar, will benefit from his death—full citizenship in the commonwealth. And which of you won't benefit from that?

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 2

With this I depart: that, as I slew my best lover for the good of Rome, I have the same dagger for myself when it shall please my country to need my death.	I will depart with these final words: just as I killed my best friend for the good of Rome, I will still keep the same dagger, so that I can kill myself when my country requires my death.

Topic: Julius Caesar Act 3 Scene 2

ALL Live, Brutus! Live, live!	ALL Live, Brutus! Live, live!
FIRST PLEBEIAN Bring him with triumph home unto his house!	FIRST PLEBEIAN Bring him with triumph home unto his house!
SECOND PLEBEIAN Give him a statue with his ancestors!	SECOND PLEBEIAN Let’s build a statue of him, near those of his ancestors!

Topic: MCQ

Q. Brutus rose against Caesar because :

A) not that he loved Caesar less, but that he loved Rome more

B) not that he loved Rome more, but because he loved Caesar less

C) he wanted to become king

D) Caesar was becoming his enemy

Thank You!